QUESTIONS AND

Sietske Verstegen

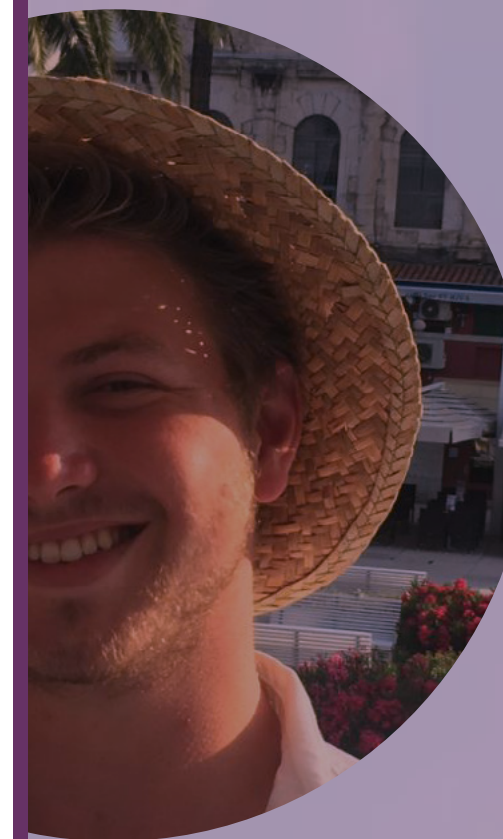

You'll never know what to expect with the Acceleration Academy. One day you're connecting your business idea to a painting, and the next day you're working together with students from France. The Acceleration Academy pushed me out of my comfort zone, which led to surprising results and collaborations between students.

Even though Covid-19 did not allow us to study outside of Eindhoven, the modules made you feel like you were. Maurice as program manager created this wondrous minor/program with diverse modules. I loved the module investment management in real estate Chicago the most, even it the topic was different from my major. However, Professor Dr. A. Kamienski did an outstanding job explaining the matter. He made us feel as if we were real investment managers!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ACCELERATION ACADEMY

How would you describe Fontys the Acceleration Academy? What did you learn and/or enjoy the most?

Ken Aleards

Participating the Acceleration Academy has been a refreshment to the way I perceived education. Each and every module of the course is being approached from a different perspective with different teachers from all over the world. Courses ranging from business model innovation, marketing communications to implementing the concept of artificial intelligence into an actual business case. Also my modules abroad, travelling between Eindhoven, Bangkok and Paris, meeting students from various cultures, was amazing. This alternation in education has helped me gain insights in my personal strength and points of development, while helping me advance in terms of what I find interesting and explore different elements of business.

As a student of the Acceleration Academy I would advise other students to act out of a 'out-of-the-box'-mindset while also being eager to learn from people with expertise and maintain a critical perspective to oneself. This course will challenge in you in several ways, but with the right mindset you will appreciate it.

How would you describe Fontys the Acceleration Academy? What did you learn and/or enjoy the most?

Vlastislav Hózak

I decided to participate the Acceleration Academy to explore the different professional cultures and learn things from real professionals as the AA offers in multiple countries with lectors from various backgrounds. However, due to the all-changing pandemic, we were all forced to adapt. Even though I was afraid I would be robbed of all the experience connected to travelling and meeting people with the same interest, I have been very pleasantly surprised by the virtual program and how all the lectors were able to handle the situation. Thanks to the online world and the multinational cooperation, I was able to combine courses I couldn't participate in the beginning. We had a wine tasting in the morning in Bordeaux and ran a hotel in "Nieuwkerk" in the evening. We explored the Detroit real estates and still managed to find ideas to improve public transport in Eindhoven. The Acceleration Academy helped me understand, that everything bad could also be an opportunity and I am thankful for that.

Eindhoven is a municipality and a city located in the province of North Brabant in the south of the Netherlands. It has a surface of 88,84 km². The city has a population of above 225.000, making it the fifth-largest municipality of the Netherlands and the largest of North Brabant.

The name Eindhoven derives from the contraction of the regional words 'eind' (meaning last or end) and 'hove' (or 'hoeve'; a section of some hectares of land).

When you google innovation, it is no coincidence that the first images you will find are light bulbs. 125 years ago, Philips brought light to the City of Eindhoven. The company transformed the city into a vibrant industrial success story.
