

Travelling by train to Denmark

Going to train by Denmark might take 12 hours from Venlo, but when everything goes as schedule, you have nice seats which are very comfortable and good for longer train rides. Instead of going by car or plane you have comfortable seats and internet. You can just watch some movies or do whatever you normally do at home but instead you do this on the train.

If you check the right app (in my case Trainline) I went one way for around 80 euro. I don't know if you'll be able to do that by car 😊
